FOREWORD

The Salt Lake Mining Review was published from 1899 to 1928 as a source of news of the mining industry, especially in Utah. In the eleventh year of publication the editor, Will C. Higgins, said, "It has been our aim to represent the mining interests of the great Intermountain West in an impartial and comprehensive manner, to further the interests of a great industry and incidentally to make a few honest dollars." He called it a paper rather than a magazine and issued it every two weeks.

The lead articles on particular mines or personalities may be comprehensive but much of the news was confined to a few lines. For the period covered it is an excellent and in many cases the only extant record of a mine or prospect. The files of the Review will continue to be useful to exploration geologists, researchers, historians and perhaps to people who find a stack of stock certificates in grandfather's desk.

Cecil Warren, library assistant in the Engineering and Physical Sciences Library of the University of Utah for the past eleven years, was a miner at the start of his career and maintains to this day an interest in the Intermountain mining industry. He compiled the Index covering the Utah items in the Review in an effort to meet the many inquiries of patrons of the library. The Utah Geological and Mineralogical Survey is privileged to make the index more broadly available to the industry.

The complete run of the Salt Lake Mining Review is in the University of Utah Library and may be consulted there.

Mr. Warren followed each mine or prospect from year to year, even to name changes, and identified it with a mining district so that the extent of information may readily be determined.

PREFACE

All claims, lodes, placers, mines and other mining properties that were referred to in the Salt Lake Mining Review between 1899 and 1928 are included in this index, and each reference to each property is listed, all within certain specified limits.

The policy followed with named mining properties was as follows: all references to a property, no matter how small, were immediately entered in the index when encountered. But items such as, "John Doe was reported working at his Bluebird mine," were omitted until another similar reference appeared. An entry was then made. This procedure ensured a sort of record of how long the property was operated. Every item, no matter how short, dealing with a statistical fact was included in the index. For example, "John Doe was reported as 'drifting' twelve feet at his Bluebird mine," and like entries were entered because of their factual nature.

All entries are in alphabetical order. Mine names and subject headings are integrated into a single index.

Mine names are listed followed by the mining district, if determined, in brackets, or by the nearest geographical location in parentheses. If a question mark follows the district name, it means that this is the best guess based on information available.

The name of a mine may appear in any of six headings. Suppose we choose Blue Rock as the mine we wish to look up. It may be found under any of the following:

Blue Rock (mines are designated only by name)
Blue Rock Claim
Blue Rock Group (of claims)
Blue Rock Lode
Blue Rock Mining Company
Blue Rock Property

They follow alphabetically and it is essential that all cards titled Blue Rock be carefully scanned.

Interpret the references below each mine as follows:

Volume	Page	Column	Date
18	: 27	- 2	Ap 15 '16

Find the volume first, then the date, then page and column. In the index, as a general rule, items with a straight entry: 26:14-2 J1 30 '24 will be of moderate to minor importance. If "(good)" follows the entry, this entry is of major importance. An entry such as 14:11ff O 30 '12 indicates an article of major importance; the 11ff means that the article starts on page 11 and goes on to a subsequent page or pages.

Abbreviations for months are:

Ja	January	Jl	July
F	February	Ag	August
Mr	March	S	September
Ap	April	O	October
My	May	N	November
Je	June	D	December

Other abbreviations used are:

CO.	Company	Con.	Consolidated
Co.	County

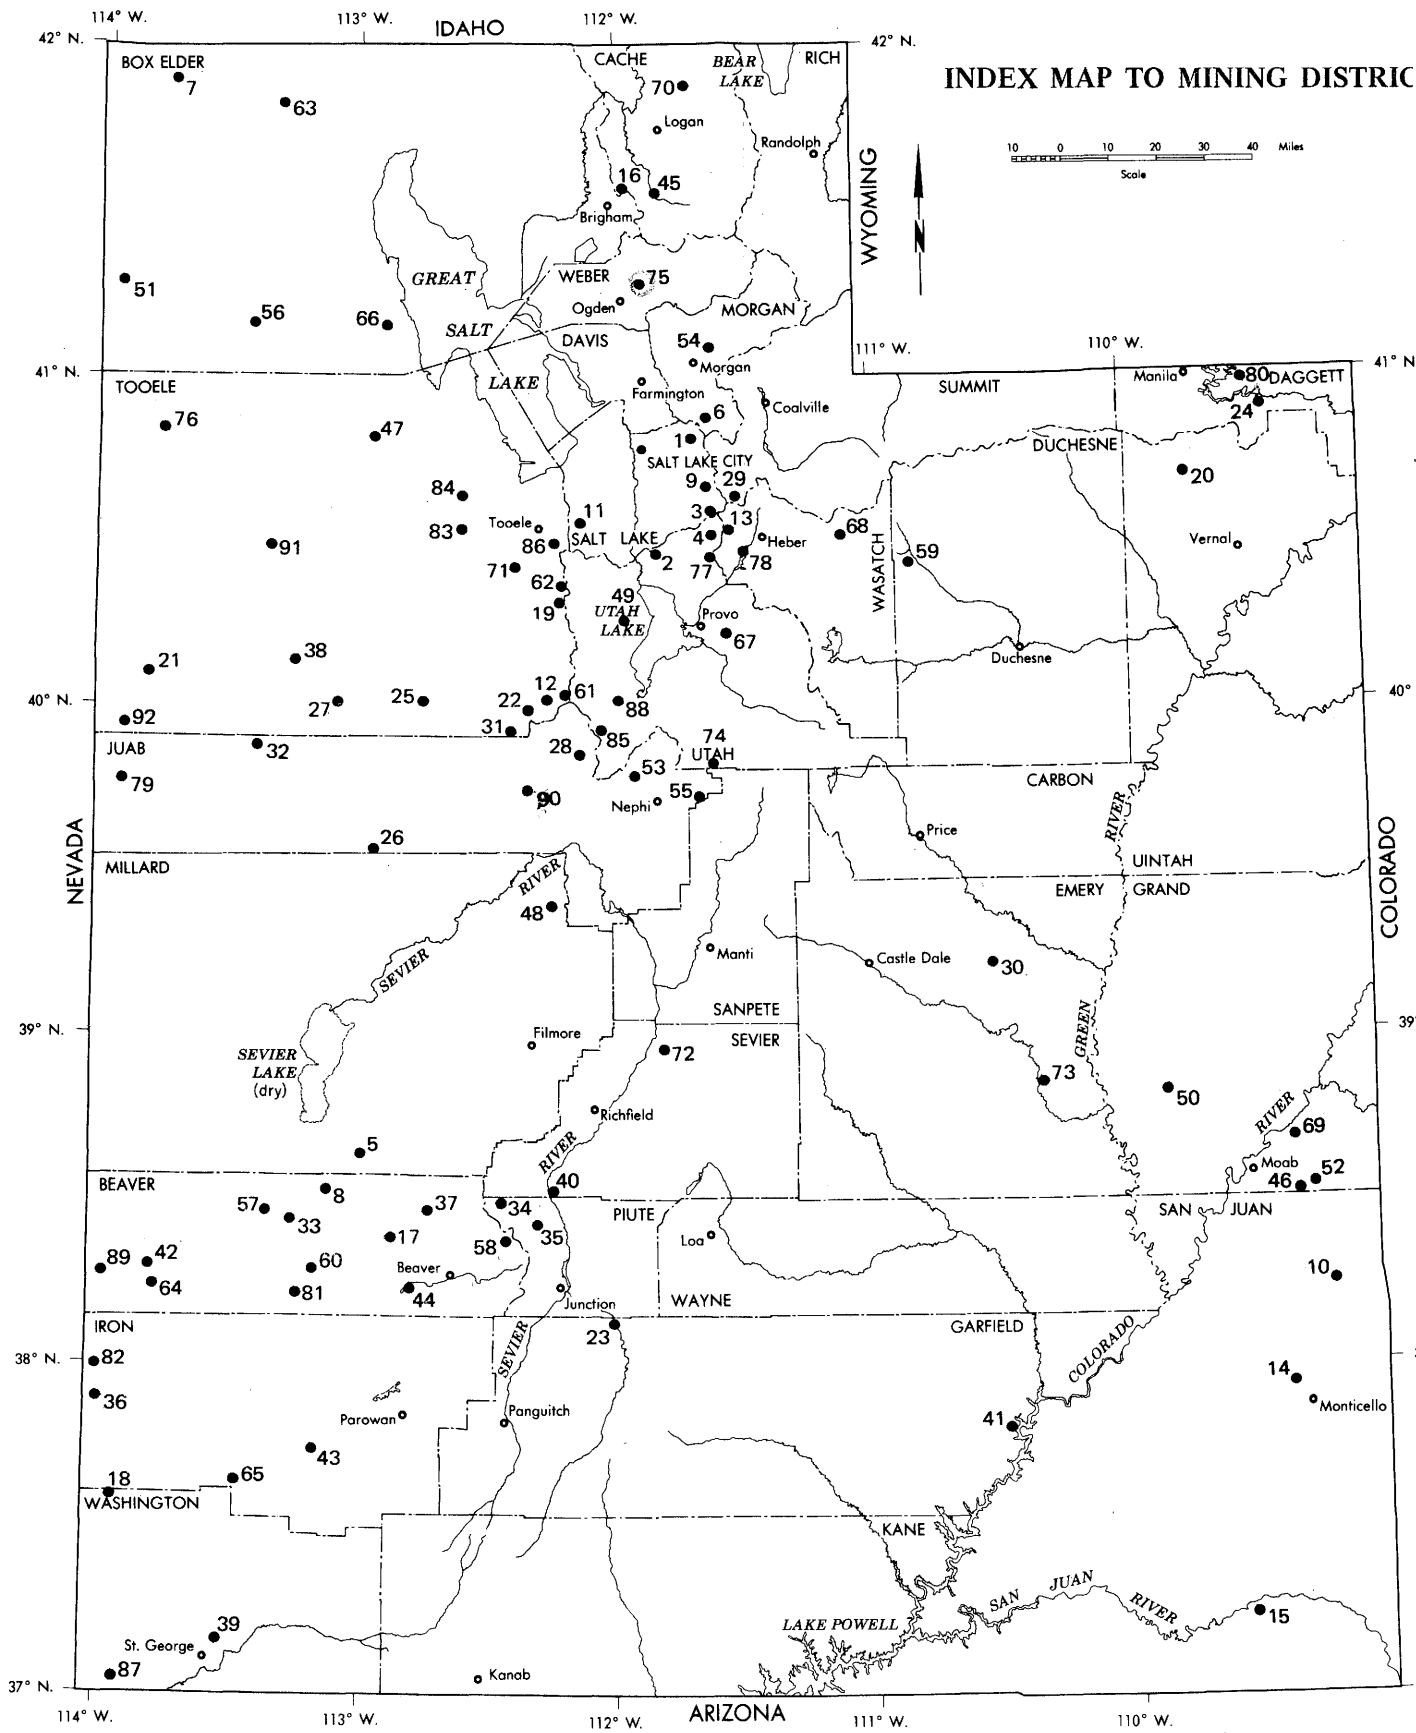

Although this index is primarily intended to facilitate the finding of references to named hard-rock (metal) mining properties appearing in the Mining Review, I found it advisable to include closely related subjects dealing with mining through the use of subject headings. Coal mines as such were not indexed, but items of special interest (such as the Scofield coal mine explosion in 1900) are included. A list of subjects indexed other than mines, claims, lodes and mining companies is given below:

Alta-Cottonwood Railway Co.
Aluminum, in Utah
Aluminum, metallurgy of
Alunite
Asphaltum - see Hydrocarbons, types
Biographies, leading mining men
Blue Acre Post Office
